Asterand Completes Acquisition of BioSeek

Asterand plc (LSE: ATD), a leading provider of human tissue and human tissue-based services to pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies engaged in drug discovery research, announced it has completed its acquisition of BioSeek, Inc. (“BioSeek”), a pioneer in the application of predictive human biology to drug discovery through its unique human primary cell based disease models (the “Acquisition”). The Acquisition was finalised after the approval by Asterand’s shareholders at an Extraordinary General Meeting held today, where all resolutions put to shareholders were duly passed. BioSeek LLC is now a new entity and a wholly-owned subsidiary of Asterand plc.

Application has been made for the 2,695,856 ordinary shares of Asterand (“Ordinary Shares”) issued by the Company in satisfaction of the initial consideration of the Acquisition to be admitted to the main market of the London Stock Exchange and trading in the Ordinary Shares is expected to commence on 23 February 2010.

Martyn Coombs, Chief Executive Officer of Asterand commented:

“It is exactly three months since we first announced this deal and we can’t wait to offer a new, broader line of products and services to our customers based on the BioSeek technology, which is so complementary to Asterand. This acquisition is about growth and supplying real value-added services to our drug discovery clients. The BioSeek and Asterand teams look forward to working closely together to expand and grow the combined business.”

Proxy voting results
